HINDENBERG FOR PEACE RETENTION

MONARCHISTS HAVE BROKEN WITH GERMAN PRESIDENT

PLEASED AT U. S. INTEREST IN PRESENT DAY GERMANY

It Means Much to Germany, as It Needs Capital and Credits—No One Will Invest Either If There Is Doubt as to Security From War.

Washington.—General Paul von Hindenburg, former commander of the ex-kaiser's armies, who at the age of 79 years is now president of Germany, has given assurances in a message to American business that he stands for the preservation of peace and the stabilization of economic conditions.

His message took the form of a signed statement given to Merle Thorpe, editor of the Nation's Business, official organ of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and was made public by that organization.

"I am much gratified," says President von Hindenburg in his message, "to hear that American business men are taking such a deep interest in the conditions of present-day Germany. The social confusion resulting from the outcome of the war and post-war conditions which have prevailed for several years now seems definitely to have given way to a readjustment of social life along stable lines. I am firmly convinced that this stabilization of economic and social conditions will continue to improve in Germany as peaceful conditions are restored among the peoples of Europe. I, for my part, am determined to do my utmost toward such restoration and preservation of peace."

CHURCH OF THE PRESIDENTS SAVED FROM SALE BY HEBREW

Long Branch, N. J.—St. James Protestant Episcopal church here, in which six presidents of the United States have worshiped, was saved from the auctioneer's hammer by Ernest Levy of Long Branch and New York, a Hebrew, who paid in full the city's assessment of $600 for a paving tax.

The chapel is hallowed by the memory of Presidents Grant, Garfield, Arthur, Hayes, McKinley and Wilson, so that it has the name of "Church of the Presidents." At Franklin college, almost within the shadow of the edifice, President Garfield, September 10, 1881, died after being shot by Guiteau.

The congregation of the "Church of the Presidents" has shrunk within recent years to such an extent that the assessment of the paving debt by the city was an embarrassment to its members and the edifice had already been posted for sale when Levy heard of it.

Bandits Rob Train—Shoot Agent

Santa Ana.—An undetermined amount of mail and express loot was taken by robbers who boarded Santa Fe train No. 75 between San Diego and Santa Ana and probably fatally shot and beat Elmer Campbell, express messer in charge of the combination mail and express car carried by the train. The robbery was not discovered until the train arrived here with Campbell lying unconscious on the floor of the looted car. The express strong box had been pried open and its contents carried away. Mail pouches had been ripped open, some were missing. Letters and packages lay strewn about.

Cigarette Consumption Increased

Washington.—Practically 1,000,000,000 more cigarettes were smoked by the American people during last July than in July, 1924, according to revenue stamps used, government records made public disclose. At the same time there was a slight falling off in the number of cigars used.

Government officials attribute the jump in cigarette smoking to the increasing number of women who smoke.

Minister to Hayti Found Dead

Montreal.—Arthur Bailly-Blanchard, United States minister to Hayti since 1914, was found dead in his bed at the Mount Royal hotel. Bailly-Blanchard arrived in Montreal August 19, but his presence had been unknown to the American consulate. The coroner's inquest resulted in a verdict of death by natural causes.

Italian Fleet Maneuvers

Naples.—One hundred and six ships of the line, sixty aircraft and three giant dirigibles, representing the greatest Italian naval armada ever assembled, has begun annual maneuvers here. The king, members of the cabinet, representatives of the chamber and senate and high army and navy officers were present.

ENGLISH AROUSED CHINO JAP PACT

SETTLEMENT OF THE SHIPPING STRIKE CAUSES MUCH ANGER

CHINESE AND JAPANESE AGREE ON MILL STRIKE

The British Are Irate Especially Against the Canton Government Because of Embargo Against British Ships.

Shanghai.—The Chinese finally succeeded in isolating the British by agreeing with the Japanese definitely in settling both the cotton mill and the shipping strikes so far as they affect the Japanese. The cotton mills will resume operation and the seamen will resume work on the Japanese ships, although the terms have not been announced.

It is supposed that the settlement was arranged by the influential chambers of commerce commissions from Kobe and Osaka, which have been in Shanghai negotiating with the Chinese Chamber of Commerce.

The British are exceedingly bitter. The Chinese papers are publishing reports of serious friction between the Japanese and British ministers in Peking. The British claim they have been let down. The British are irate especially against the Canton government because of its recent manifesto refusing to accept cargoes transported in British ships or transhipped at Hongkong. The British are sending Vice-Admiral Sinclair of the Pacific squadron to Canton for the purpose of investigating, with power to act.

The British are also angered by the action of the Chinese groups in Shanghai in co-operation with Peking in blocking the proposal for a judicial investigation of the Shanghai trouble. Hilton Johnston, commissioner-general of Shanghai, asserted that the British troubles in China are due solely to bolshevik machinations. He says that he has possession of documents proving the use of large sums of money in Shanghai and in Canton for the purpose of undermining the British empire.

Excess Production Yields Profit

Honolulu, T. H.—Sugar prices on the islands are abnormally law, and if it had not been that the plantations will produce fully 80,000 tons more than was estimated at the beginning of the crop, there would have been another story to tell. It is this excess yield, which has cost nothing to produce, which is going to make profits where prices alone could have spelled many heavy losses. This excess yield has gone to help make up the increase of 3,000,000 long tons in world production this year. However, the statisticians say that while the world production of sugar from cane has increased 26.5 per cent, low prices have increased world consumption of sugar 28.7 per cent, so that if there should be a check in production through natural causes in any of the great sugar producing countries, prices would immediately rebound upward. Then the Hawaiian excess production would develop lifting power and enable the plantations to make real profits.

Oil Squabble Settled

Washington.—The government dismissed its appeal from the decision of Chief Justice McCoy of the District of Columbia supreme court quashing the first conspiracy indictments against ex-Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall, Harry F. Sinclair, Edward L. Doheny and Edward L. Doheny, Jr.

Notice of dismisal was filed with the court of appeals by Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, special government oil counsel.

No reason was given by Pomerene and Roberts for the dismissal action, which applies only to the first conspiracy indictments. Fall, Sinclair and the Dohenys, after the original indictments had been quashed by the court on technical grounds, later were re-indicted.

H. W. Catlin, Bakersfield aviator, and John Simpson, San Francisco, his pilot, had a narrow escape from death when their plane fell from a 10,000-foot elevation near Ramsberg. The plane slipped into an air pocket and became unmanageable, Catlin stated. Neither pilot was injured in the crash, as the plane landed in the center of a large sand dune on the desert.

BIG PROGRAM FOR THE STATE FAIR

SACRAMENTO.—Despite a greatly enlarged program, those who attend the California state fair at Sacramento will be impressed with the clearity and smoothness with which, events at the fair grounds move, just as they have in the past. Many have wondered how a widely varied program, beginning early in the morning and continuing late into the night, can be carried through day after day without hitch or halt.

There are several explanations. At the outset it may be stated that in assisting directors of the fair to committees, particular attention is paid to their respective vocations or avocations. Therefore, not only the chairman of a particular committee is familiar with the needs and requirements of the department he directs, but his associates on the committee have a thorough understanding of the situation, also.

Thus, R. A. Condee of Chico, the new president of the state agricultural society, the governing body of the fair, is principal of the high school and superintendent of the agricultural department of California Junior Republic. It is but natural that he should be the chairman of the junior division, embracing student judging and livestock raising; also, chairman of the committee on poultry, in addition to having charge of the fair grounds and being a member of the finance committee.

T. H. Ramsay, of Red Bluff, the vice president, in addition to being a banker, is a stock raiser operating on a large scale and president of the California Cattlemen's Association. It is not surprising, therefore, that he should be the chairman of the committee on horse show and an associate member of the committee on livestock. This particularization could be carried on throughout the entire directorade.

Mr. Couk spoke under the head of cooperation, reading quotations of prices of prunes and dried cots in the New York market. He also spoke of personal interviews with grocers in eastern states where they were selling a poor grade of dried apricots at 28 cents per lb. and a good grade of prunes at 60 cents per pound. He said there was too great a difference between prices received by growers and those paid by consumers.

Messrs. Keesling, Clendening and Hedegard all talked along the same line, showing that if produce was actually given away by the producer, the consumers in the east would still pay the same high prices and that such conditions should not exist.

Announcement was made that Pomona grange would meet Saturday, September 5, at Mountain View.

AUTOISTS UNINJURED IN TRAIN CRASH

An automobile registered to J. B. Wagner was in a wreck Monday afternoon from which the occupants miraculously escaped without injury.

A freight train was switching over the Campbell Avenue crossing and the engine having passed the driver of the car drove upon the tracks in front of a loose gravel car, moving on a side track. The front wheels of the machine were broken, letting it down upon the rails where it was pushed along about 80 feet with out overturning or being ground beneath the wheels of the gondola.

The occupants, Lila Wagner, Helen Brain, and Young Boalt, altho uninjured were terribly frightened and their screams were alarming. A hurry call brought A. S. Margarson, of the traffic force out to investigate.

Miss Marie Ohlson was struck by an auto late Sunday evening and is still lying at the county hospital in a very critical condition.

The accident happened on East Campbell avenue near the Los Gatos road when the unfortunate victim was run down by a hit and run driver who escaped his persuers by dodging down side streets and back roads.

As a result of this each contestant will pay his own expenses.

ADVERTISING AND ART

Art has now entered into advertising to such an extent that no one who has the gift of drawing or illustrating and the willingness to work need be without gainful employment. It is noticeable, also, that while there is still an aversion to the commercialization of art on the part of many artists of the old school, other artists of prominence have pronounced as ethical and encouraged as practical the dabbling of the artists's brush into the inkwells of business. And why not? Art in advertising is as irrepressible as advertising itself is needful. Millions of people seldom see an art gallery, but they should have the opportunity to recognize genius in the everyday display of the things in which they are interested.

RICHARDSON AND CLEVELAND

Governor Richardson has made a veto record resembling that of Grover Cleveland, when he was President. It requires not a little moral courage to veto a legislative measure. That is sure to provoke considerable criticism in some quarters. Whatever mistakes of judgment Governor Richardson may have made, he deserves commendation for consistently striving to prevent waste of public funds and to cut down governmental expenses. Economy and efficiency in government are becoming strong convictions with the thoughtful taxpayer.—Pasadena Star News.

PROTECT THE FORESTS

The duty to sow no seeds of fire is on everyone. It falls particularly on the vacationists now swarming the woods. The experienced outdoor man grinds tobacco leavings and match stubs into the dust with his heel. The campfire should be built only on bare ground, should never be left unattended and should be thoroughly extinguished before the camp is left. The forests will be open as long as the public respects the rules for safeguarding them, otherwise they will eventually be closed during the summer to protect our timber resources.

If you think publishing a newspaper is an independent profession, remember that the results of a newspaper's efforts are placed squarely before its readers and in a larger sense before the world. There is nothing a newspaper can hide. There it is, and here it is, plastered high and broadcast far and wide. Its work is an open book. It is here in black and white for your approval. Few other lines of business must of necessity show themselves—their every step in the process of service—as must the newspaper. Count ten before criticising one.

No Sherman Anti-Trust Law ever will be invoked to break up a combine of loyal, forward-looking, clear-minded men and women cooperating to put their home town on the map and to keep it there.

Perilous Position

Count Boni de Castellane's book of memoirs lay on the editor's table. The editor said:

"This book reminds me that when a penniless foreign nobleman marries a rich American girl he'd better watch his step, or—crash!

"There's a story about a foreign nobleman to whom a friend said:

"'Sorry to hear of your divorce from that American coal king's daughter. How did you come to fall out?'

"'I didn't fall out,' the nobleman answered, 'I was thrown out.'"

Word Brought Painful Memories to Widow

Max D. Steuer, the noted lawyer, was talking in New York about certain traction abuses.

"Let them beware," he said. "Murder will out. The skeleton in the closet will emerge. It's like the old lady in black.

"'I want a coffin for my poor dear sainted husband,' said the old lady in black, and she wiped her eyes with a black-bordered handkerchief. 'He was very good to me, William was. Make it a solid oak coffin of best quality—genuine, you know.'

"'Yes, madam,' said the undertaker. 'Genuine oak. And what trimmings?'

"'Trimmin's?' said the old lady, bursting into tears. 'Oh, no, mister! No trimmin's! Them was what poor William died of.'"—Detroit Free Press.

Famous first words: "Enymail?"

Dawes and Coolidge make a good combination: we get English as she is spoke and as she isn't spoke.

Next to the truth about Santa Claus there's nothing so sad as Dr. Beebe's report that there is no Sargasso Sea.

I parked on the bridge at midnight, but I didn't park there very long; for along came a truck, my flivver it struck, and this is why flivvers go wrong.

History repeats itself. Gen. Sherman told us what war is, and now the Sherman anti-trust act is raising the same thing with illegal combinations to fix prices.

"I'm in love with a certain girl; shall I marry her?" wrote a young man to his lawyer. "No," wrote back the lawyer, "only ministers and Justices of the Peace have the right to do such a thing."

French Prices

The prince of Monaco, sailing off on the Berengaria, said to a girl reporter:

"When I get back to France I'll find that prices have gone up again. Prices go up in France all the time. You can start a little business there now and retire rich in three years.

"France reminds me of a story I heard in Florida. A Florida plumber presented a Miami millionaire with a plumbing bill for $125. But the millionaire handed the plumber a dollar and said sternly:

"'Receipt that bill of yours in full.'

"'But—' said the plumber.

"'Receipt it in full,' persisted the millionaire. 'I used to be a plumber myself.'

"The plumber gave a start, took out his gold fountain pen, receipted the bill in full, and gave the millionaire 35 cents change."

"Every day in every way"

"Yes, sir, this old Ford actually seems to be getting better every day. Since I drained the crankcase and filled up with the new Zerolene 'F' for Fords, she starts quicker, has more power, and seems to go a little farther on a gallon of gasoline."

Zerolene "F" for Fords gets to all the parts where oil is needed, especially the wrist-pin bearings and the upper half of the cylinder walls, which are frequently "oil-starved" when an unsuitable lubricant is used.

Zerolene "F" for Fords is made by the Standard Oil Company's patented vacuum process. It deposits a minimum of carbon.

Yet Zerolene "F" for Fords costs not more, but less than most of the special Ford oils on the market.

A Ford is an A-1 transportation investment. Protect your investment by proper lubrication.

Valuable Asphalt Well

Scientific investigators find continuing interest in the well at Newport Beach, Cal. It flows asphalt and has continued to do so since it was drilled to a depth of 1,800 feet years ago in an effort to find oil. The asphalt is kept flowing by circulating hot water about the casing, and a flow of more than fifty barrels a day is secured, all salable and worth a goodly sum each day.—Ohio State Journal.

PRUNE & APRICOT ASS'N. ON ECONOMY BASIS

Coincident with the recent arrangement to dispose of a large portion of this year's prune crop through commercial packers has come an effort to conduct the packing operations of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' association more strictly in accordance with the recognized principles of businesslike efficiency and economy it has been announced by C. D. Cavallaro, president of the association.

Reduction of the volume of fruit to be handled by the association, he explained, will permit a certain retrenchment in the expense of packing house operation, and it has been decided to concentrate as much as possible of the packing operations at strategic points in the field, and keep a few houses operating more steadily, rather than to maintain a larger number and running only part of the possible time.

Just how extensive will be the association's activities in this direction can not yet be determined, Cavallaro declared, owing to the present impossibility of saying just how much fruit will actually have to be received and how fast. Therefore no definite decision has been reached as to just what plants, in this county at least, will shut down.

"The California Prune and Apricot Growers' association is at the present time attempting to work out a plan for the concentration of its packing at such plants as will materially reduce the number of houses being operated, both in Santa Clara county and in other parts of the state," Cavallaro said. "However, the details of this plan cannot be determined until deliveries to the association are far enough along to enable the management to determine the exact amount necessary for the association to pack.

"However, a strong effort is to be made to so assemble the fruit as to cut down the necessity of transferring it from house to house to a minimum and center packing at a point that will keep the smallest number of packing houses operating for a long period of time, in order to demonstrate whether or not packing operations can be done profitably.

"Outside of Santa Clara county, plants at Healdsburg, Yuba City, Colusa, Visalia and Hollister are also to be operated."

Very favorable reports have thus far been received from growers on their attitude toward the new deal with the commercial packers, Cavallaro stated. The prevalent feeling seems to be, he said, that the association has handled the matter wisely. Similar approval has been widely expressed by business men outside of the association and the industry, he said, not only in this locality but in other parts of the prune-producing region. Likewise the trade reaction to the arrangement has been good and there have been numerous expressions of appreciation at the effort to stabilize the market.

FOLSOM POWER HOUSE

the first hydro-electric plant of commercial importance in the United States placed in operation September 9, 1895, and Frank A. Leach, Jr., General Manager of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. This plant, with a capacity of 4022 horsepower is still in operation and is one of the 28 electric plants now operated by the Company.

"The past thirty years has shown tremendous development and progress in the electrical industry", says Frank A. Leach, Jr., Vice-President and General Manager of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

"September 9th, 1895, the first hydro-electric plant of commercial importance in the United States was placed in operation at Folsom, California."

"The first public dinner to be cooked electrically was served in 1895 at the Cannon Street Hotel, London, England. The dinner was in honor of the then lord mayor of London and dishes served and the means of cooking them created quite a sensation. The energy was supplied by a small local steam plant. Today there are in California alone more than 25,000 homes where electricity for cooking purposes is supplied at a special rate."

"Today, twenty one times as much light can be obtained with a 40 watt lamp as could be obtained with the original 16 candlepower lamp, for the same expenditure. Last year a nation wide home lighting contest under the auspices of the National Electric Light Association stimulated a movement for better home lighting."

"Research shows that between 30 and 33 percent of the electrically lighted homes in the United States have lighting fixtures that are obsolete. Further it has been found that more than 60 percent of the electric kitchen lighting fixtures now in use are of antiquated design."

"In California 97% of all the homes are supplied with electricity. More farm homes are electrified than in any other state in the Union."

Mystery of Magnetism Found Hard to Explain

Why is it that the earth's magnetic phenomena depend so plainly upon the sun? We are aware that magnetic storms are always more frequent in each eleventh year—that in which sunspots are most frequent—but no one knows the reason.

Speaking of magnetism, a curious experiment has had a curious result. Plumb-lines over four thousand feet long were swung in a copper mine, which has a shaft 4,250 feet deep. Piano wire was used with metal bobs weighing 50 pounds each. First the wire stretched 15 feet; then, when the bobs were immersed in oil to prevent vibration, the two lines shortened 25 inches.

But the oddest phenomenon was the attraction of the wires one for the other. This amounted to one-tenth of a foot, and even when lead bobs were substituted for iron ones the attraction remained the same.

The area east of Famosa and Delano bids fair to open the district as a new Kern county oil field, perhaps the largest and richest in the state. Lease scouts and geologists representing the greatest powers in the oil world are turning with one accord toward the test well of the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil company, which is being drilled on section 20, 5-27, east of Jasmine, in an effort to prove the territory. Twenty-four wells are contracted to be drilled if oil is found and the drilling of the test well is set to begin on or before December 31 this year.

A. Saso Plans Big Sh ow Week

Confident that the public will support the best in screen entertainment, Andrew Saso and other progresive theatre owners in this territory have joined the national movement to celebrate Paramount Week, Sept. 6-13, when 8000 theatres throughout the country will unite in exhibiting Paramount pictures exclusively.

It is significent that the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation has chosen newspapers almost exclusively to advertise Paramount Week. Coming as it does just after the opening of the Greater Movie Season, it will on this, its eighth annual year, be more widespread and popular than ever.

The past seven years have proved Paramount Week not only a prosperous one for exhibitors but it now is recognized as a national movement giving prestige with those theatres identifying themselves with the movement.

To send the week off to a flying start the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation is advertising in 3500 newspapers throughout the country. These include both daily and weekly, and the sum spent is one of the largest ever by any one corporation in American newspapers in a single day.

It is only within the past few years that Paramount has included weekly papers in its lists, and it is recognized as a tribute to power of the rural press.

A strong bid for continued popularity among the moviegoers was made by Paramount during the past year when that company released such pictures as "The Covered Wagon," "Thundering Herd," "The Ten Commandments," "Manhandled," "Monsieur Beaucaire," "Merton of the Movies," "North of 36," "Peter Pan" and many others of equal note.

And the company has in store for early release such pictures as are certain to keep Paramount out in front in public interest. They include "That Royle Girl," and other productions directed by the noted D. W. Griffith; comedies with Harold Lloyd starring, comedies with Douglas MacLean starring; "The Beggar on Horseback," a James Cruze production; "The Pony Express," another Cruze masterpiece.

It is this latter picture that Vice President Dawes became so enthusiastic about when he saw it being filmed, and he suggested showing it to President Coolidge when completed.

Gloria Swanson will be seen in "The Coast of Folly" and "Stage Struck." Thomas Meighan in a picture in Sing Sing prison, "The Man Who Found Himself," and also one now being made in Ireland.

Pola Negri will be seen in one of Joseph Hergesheimer's stories, "Flower of the Night." Betty Bronson will repeat her success in "Peter Pan" of last year with a new Barrie picture, "A Kiss for Cinderella," taken from the stage play of that name.

Joseph Conrad's masterpiece "Lord Jim," will be filmed with Percy Marmont in the title role.

Willing to Pay for Use of Telephone

A man speaking with a Spanish accent asked for long distance from a telephone booth in Broadway. He showed no concern when the operator told him it would cost him $13.60 for three minutes of conversation with Havana, Cuba. He talked for 33 minutes and was told that he owed $105.16 more. He stuffed quarters and dimes into the coin box until it would hold no more. Then the operator asked him to wait until a collector could be sent to empty the box. When the collector arrived the man had gone, but about the same time a taxi drew up to company's headquarters with a passenger who announced that the talked to Havana and wanted to pay the rest of his bill.

Bunkered

R. T. Jones, the golf champion, told a golf story at a golfers' banquet in New York.

"An old lady lived in a house overlooking a golf course," he said, "and one day she was talking to the club secretary about the game as she had observed it from her parlor window.

"'Your best player,' she said, 'is undoubtedly fat old Mr. Spurgeon. He puts some muscle into it, he does. Morning, noon and night I see him picking and pounding away in one or other of those deep sand pits. He never shirks them like the rest of you.'"—New York Sun.

Solano county officials declare they have new and startling clues in the murder of Robert Branscombe, sheep man, in a cabin near Suisun.

A $50,000, 3-story annex will be added to the Oehm hotel at Martinez.

Considerable interest has been aroused in Fresno by the announcement that the California gas research council and the state railroad commission are co-operating in an investigation of coal fields of Fresno county in an effort to determine the feasibility of manufacturing gas from the low grade coal. Considerable quantities of the low grade product underlie the foothills about five miles west of Coalinga, and other deposits are located in the Minarets in Madera county, according to geologists. A mine was opened near Coalinga about forty-five years ago, but was abandoned when it was found that the operations did not pay. The city of Coalinga received its name from the coal deposits nearby.

Word has been received from Bishop Patrick J. Keane of the Sacramento diocese of the Ruman Catholic chuch, who is in Rome, that Pope Pius XI has elevated Rev. Thomas Horgan of Sacramento, Rev. Patrick Guerin of Marysville and Rev. Michael Kiely of Roseville to domestic prelates with the title of monsignor. All three of the priests honored are well known in the Sacramento valley. Suitable ceremonies will be held on the return of Bishop Keane. The title of monsignor is an honorary one conferred by the pope. Usually it is given to priests who have distinguished themselves in church work.

A government building costing approximately $3,000,000, in which will be housed all of the various federal offices and bureaus now scattered about the city is in immediate prospect for San Francisco, it became known recently. The building will probably be located at Washington and Sansome streets, site of the old appraisers' building, or at Pine and Sansome streets, present site of the 2-story sub-treasury building. The building would furnish between 125,000 and 150,000 square feet of office space.

Work of remodeling the police emergency hospital at Venice and enlarging the quarters to provide a women's ward has been started. The establishing of the new quarters will eliminate the necessity of sending women prisoners to Santa Monica, which has been the custom. It is believed more than $1,000 will be saved yearly through the new addition. The hospital also will be rebuilt and all modern equipment installed. Police Surgeon Joseph Saylin will be in charge of the hospital work.

Twenty-two hundred tons of fabricated steel will be used in the new Wrigley field, future home of the Los Angeles baseball club, under construction. The seating capacity will be 30,000, constituting the largest baseball park west of Chicago, according to J. H. Patrick, president of the Angel City Baseball association. Construction of the park was started last March. The steel work is practically
